Booth 901

Tuesday, April 6 and Wednesday, April 7

To benefit the IPC Foundation — Investing in the future of the industry

Thanks to generous donations, the IPC Foundation sponsors an "all academic poster competition" at IPC APEX EXPO to foster better cooperation between industry and academia in the critical areas of electronic interconnection technology. Universities around the world are invited to submit their research for consideration in this competition. In addition, scholarships to IPC's trade shows have been made available to individuals who are experiencing financial hardship.

Please join IPC in supporting educational excellence, by participating in its first annual silent auctions.

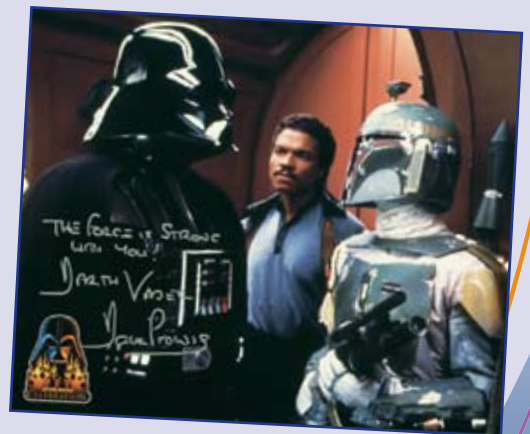

Two separate auctions will be held: one on Tuesday and one on Wednesday.
